Midway Fuelwood Timber Sale

Location of Bid Opening: Plumas National Forest, Supervisor's Office, 159 Lawrence St. Quincy, CA 95971

Date: 10/20/2015 Time: 10:00 AM

The Midway Fuelwood Timber Sale is a 33 acre sale being advertised as a fuelwood sale measured in cords with the option of using mechanical equipment or hand felling for removal of approximately 863 cords of green standing Lodgepole pine with a minor component of small diameter Ponderosa pine and White fir.

Mechanical equipment can be used to remove product as sawlog or fuelwood to designated landing/firewood processing areas. Vehicles can travel across sale area to retrieve material during hand fell operations and limbs and tops will be piled for future burning by the Forest Service.

This sale is comprised of green conifer trees from 3.0 inches DBH to 29.9 DBH included timber to a 1 inch top for chipping material and 3 inch top for fuelwood material.

This is a Leave Tree Mark, where trees to be left are designated with white tracer paint above and below stump height. All other trees 3.0 inches DBH to 29.9 inches DBH not marked are to be cut.

This sale is located on the Beckwourth Ranger District of the Plumas National Forest, approximately 10 miles northwest of Portola, CA. To reach the sale area from the intersection of Hwy 70/Grizzly Rd (CO RD 112), travel 14.5 miles north on Grizzly Rd.

The sale area will be on the right side of the road designated with blue flagging, orange boundary paint, and red timber sale tags reading Midway Fuelwood Unit 3.
